Dedication

We, the Senior class of 1974, with greatest esteem and respect, dedicate the "Pirate Log" to our friend and class sponsor, Mr. Dale Vige. Through his guidance and leadership, we have been able to accomplish mountainous tasks and find our ultimate goals. We students at Twin Rivers will remember Mr. Vige in our future years of life.

Forward

After many months of hard work and preparation, we present to you the 1974 Pirate Log. We students of Twin Rivers High School have journeyed down an exciting path this year, filled with many interesting days. It has led us through such things as sports events, prom, music contests, band concerts, and graduation. It has taken us to the doors of the schoolhouse time and time again for the class plays and dances. It is our hope that this book will help you recall happy experiences and stir pleasant memories.

Yesterday I was sun-footing, one foot singly in my mother's the other in my father's.
 Today I am stumbling, and so I call me groping, grasping, and reaching for something real.
 Tomorrow everything will be clear, at the black end of a white rope.
 Today the rope is blurred and the end is missing.
 Yesterday my hand wrong, were held the wrong were each remained by a heavy white imitation.
 Today, light and being are separated in suspension in which the color runs, they remain and almost finally reach the end of a rope.
 Tomorrow the rope will be in hand.
 Today, the end is still, except for the day a hand holds it both still to weight there and ours, after many it is found its worth is beyond price.
 And as I am, reaching for the I found
 and a trail,

Ottawa Class History Written by Ron Oppenahl.

In August of 1961, 24 bright-eyed and innocent little kids started their way through school. Of those original 24, 13 have made it through 13 years of the Twin Rivers School System.

We will never forget that first step off that school bus. We kept looking up and up. Things were going to be different.

Mrs. Phyllis Johnson had the task of giving us our first year of education. By the end of the year, we knew how to listen and that we were not to talk when others were talking. Well, at least most of us did. At the end of the year we lost Kathy Redding and Blooda Tubbs. I didn't know them anyway, since they were girls!

How could we forget Dick, Jane, Sally, Spot, and of course Puff who always seemed to be on the television set. Our first grade teacher, Mrs. Carol Carlson, started being rougher on us and there was a good reason. She finally told us that she was going to have a little baby. We were all to draw pictures of what we thought the baby was going to be. Since there were more girl babies drawn, she told us that she would have a girl. The boys were heart broken. If only we had had a few more boys, then she could have had a boy baby! We were gaining, though. Steve Olson came clear from California just to be with us. Mrs. Sorenson took over and by the end of the year, we knew more about Dick, Jane and Sally than we cared to. We all looked forward to second grade.

Drats, the boys had lost their recent gain. A new girl, Doreen Johnson, had moved in from Audubon. Our teacher, Mrs. Booth, had the pleasure of giving us our first handwriting experience. Now since we knew so much about Dick and Jane, we had to write about them. We also tried our luck at spelling, language, and music. We were big kids now!

Third grade brought a lot of changes. We lost three girls, Gail Ablos, Valerie Christensen, and Denise Barre. When Denise left, we all brought a dime and our teacher, Mrs. Fubling, made a tree out of the dimes and gave it to Denise. She was a girl, but it was not when she left. In that same year, we gained Connie Gien, Tom Curry, and Ricky Monson. The big game that year was "heads up - seven up." Saw Hassan could always guess who had picked her. I wonder how, Sue?

Big changes were happening in fourth grade. Some of the boys were actually talking to the girls. I think there were a few romances that year, but... I promised to keep it a secret. Ann, Bruce Hoffman left that year. Poor Ann. One of the biggest highlights of the year was when Mrs. Neeson brought her accordion and sang for us. We really enjoyed it. We at least tried to, since we were getting out of arithmetic. Fifth grade was a fairly quiet year. We gained Jackie Magler and Ivan Fredrikson from such rival Livermore. Mrs. Howerton told us all to be nice and welcome these two even if they did come from Livermore. Ivan soon went back to Livermore. We also lost Ricky Monson. Near the end of the year, our next teacher came down and announced to us that we were to catch butterflies for next year's class. Of course, that was Miss Fox.

Sixth grade was the ultimate of our education. After sixth grade, we should surely know most everything. Between the butterflies, birds, and Iowa history, Miss Fox kept us extremely busy. We also learned how to copy out of the dictionary that year, most of us the first day. I wonder who had the record that year. Before we left, she warned us of the evils of justice high. She told us that perfect kids could be totally changed in the next few years.

We went into the seventh grade with this ominous warning. However, we soon took a liking to being evil. There were paper wads on the ceiling and the passing of candy under the curtain from the eighth grades. Boyfriends and girlfriends were now the big thing with most romances lasting 2 or 3 weeks, some even 2 months. Our seventh and eighth grade teachers, Mrs. Beitzel and Mr. Raney had a rough time with the young lovers, but I hope they enjoyed it. By now most of us had made friends with the kids from Livermore. We all looked forward to our high school careers.

On May 29, 1970, 13 Ottawas die hard received eighth grade diplomas. Carrie, Holly, Julie, Sue, Yvonne, Deb, Charie, Ann, Byron, Betty, Diane, Ramin, Dan, Linda, and myself had reached the top, or so we thought.

In behalf of the class, I would like to thank the teachers and our parents for helping us catch the butterflies, handaging the cuts, and most of all, giving us an education that we should appreciate.

Livermore Class History written by Denise Schowash and Chris Coleman

We, the class of 1974, have learned that some things are inevitable. And for us, the inevitable was school.

We began our adventure with the inevitable, oh, I mean, school, at the ripe old age of five years old, or rather, the "age of innocence." We were so innocent that we let our teacher, Mrs. Crisler, teach us our colors, little realizing that someday they'd show it back at us and call it science.

During the middle of that first year, a rumor was going around that we would be in school for another 13 years. At this rumor came of us literally cracked up. Poor Paula slipped off the bench in the lunchroom and plunged into the radiator. This gave the school nurse a chance to practice first aid. But, this didn't stop Paula as the rest of us, and toward us we went!

In first grade, Mrs. Vandenburg, taught us how to be leaders. The Pledge of Allegiance leaders had a very important job. Before we could say a single word, the leaders had to check and see if our knees were together! We also learned to read. Our very first word was "go" and we've been going ever since!

Miss Wyman started us thinking on our careers when we were nine second graders, but to this day we still don't have a prospective presidential candidate. Vickie Terrelliger joined our class and we pressed on toward third grade.

In third grade we were faced with the Basic Skills Tests, but Miss Dehout was there to help us recover from the shock. Basic Skills really broadened our horizon - we learned what #2 pencils were and what kind of looks you received if you forgot to bring two of them on test day. Third grade was the turning point in Chris's life. During music class she fainted dead-away (our spelling books had finally arrived that day and the excitement was probably too much for her), but when the teacher told her she'd better go home, Chris pleaded to stay. That was the last time she ever argued to stay in school.

Fourth grade was our discovery year. Of course, there were some things Mrs. Donalds hadn't planned on us discovering. That was when Linda said a naughty word and had to go home and report her nasty little deed to her parents. This was also the year for budding romances. But when Kerry offered James a ring, she wasn't having any and displayed true female wit, she tossed it into the waste can.

However in fifth grade, the romance bit really "got us" with our little group and in no time at all some of us had pledged our hearts away and were flashing "friendship" rings all over the place. Miss Thornlund wasn't too worried, especially when we girls discovered our progress on the baseball diamond and proceeded to successfully cream the guys home on their home run, game after game. To get even, the guys resorted to dandelion fluff. At first glance, it would appear that yellow justice was making the rounds, but that was hardly the case when we weren't slamming baskets or smacking each other with dandelions, the guys would take a game of football or basketball, and we girls would wind up at our favorite hang-out, the swing set. Here we would sing the hits of the times, "The Monkees' Theme Song," "Henry the VIII," "Ballad of the Green Soper" and Petula Clark's immortal, "Be us, anyway! My Love." Obviously, recess was our favorite time of day!!

In sixth grade we became responsible, quite responsible. They even let us in the school kitchen, where we learned to "serve into others as they serve unto you!" Mrs. Turley taught with the "work then play" method. Our plays The Prince and the Pauper, Cowboys and Indians, and A Charlie Brown Christmas were really exciting. We gave the first two to our mothers at a tea in their honor. The last one was part of a surprise going-away party for Mark Anderson. Somewhere or the other, he caught on to what we were doing. We just couldn't imagine why - because even if the whole class stayed in for recess to practice the play, we always sent at least one person outside to keep Mark company!

The minor high years were THE thing for us, because it was then that we rode over to the big high school in bids for afternoon classes. Here we found ourselves in the same classes as those kids from Ottawa! We strained ourselves and adjusted to this fact, and it wasn't too long before we discovered that they were human, too. Together we teamed up in preparation for the "biggie," high school. Of course, there were a few of us that just couldn't break our ties with the elementary. On one occasion Kevin, Barry, Randy, Chris, and Ivan stayed back when the bus left at noon for the high school. Mr. DeHout rescued them and hailed them over to home. Of course they claimed that we left them, but we all knew how it was right gang?

We traded in our junior high days for four years of high school with a little graduation ceremony in the big gym. As we were presented with little diplomas our full names were read and the middle names were good for a laugh or two.

As we approach graduation we can look back and smile, wince, (whatever!) on all the days from the "happy-go-lucky" days of kindergarten to the "happy-dit-dates, be quiet, and raise-your-hand" days of high school, knowing that no matter how we begin our separate journeys, leap, or bound we will always remember and cherish the memories we have as students of Twin Rivers Community School. A special thanks to all of our parents, teachers, friends, and classmates who helped share 13 years of wonderful happenings with us, the Twin Rivers (Livermore) Class of 1974.

The Senior class of 1974 would like to thank three great people that have helped make our high school so memorable. Miss Darlene Tuinstra, Mrs. Barbara Bratland, and Mr. Dale Vige have been more than just our class sponsors, they provided us with the tools to make the most of our high school. Most important thanks to these three for their friendship that has helped us through these years. May every class be so lucky.

-- 1974 Senior Class Members

1. Debra Zeitner, do hereby will to my favorite people, the cheerleaders, my 1963 white Chevrolet. Now all you have to do is paint it yellow, write school bus on it and then no one can stop you from cheating. . . and to guarantee you get to where you going, I appoint Gina Collins as the driver.
1. Linda Wood, will to Miss Melanie Magler my capability to get my own towel. P.S. Have fun next year, Mel.
1. Holly Thompson, being of partly sound spirit, hereby will my ability to stand still in the lunch line to the sophomores and junior boys. You are no lazier than the rest of us. Also, to Mr. DeHamm, I will my ability to come down the right set of stairs to dinner.
1. Kevin Thilges, being of sound body and wild hair, will my ability to buy a decent car to Kirk Hundertmark. Then maybe your car won't have to spend so much time at the shop.
1. Charlie Thatcher, will my readily available supply of change to Leo Hankins which he would probably be borrowing anyway, and my hand writing to Kirk Hundertmark and Scott Johnson, so Mr. Rasey will be the only person using hieroglyphics at T. R.
1. Vick "Chicken" Terulliger, will to Sam Shipley my ability to stick it out in this rotten hole till the final sentence of 4 years is served, and to all residents of T. R. the chance to get all of their stuff in one bag. Maybe then they will mellow out a little and be real people.
1. Paula "Twink" Taylor, being of perverted mind and body do hereby bequeath to Mr. William Nelson all the John Denver albums and pictures in my house. But remember they don't feel like toilet paper!
1. Ann Selvig, being of sound mind and lattered body will to brutal Jennifer Wood, a life size punching bag to mutilate next year after basketball practice, and to Rich Kineth, I will a live mongoose to take care of all the, (you know what?)!
1. Sandy Holland, being of sound mind and short body will to this school my mother the chef, Joyce. She is a great cook at home but makes a heck of a hicutt at school.
1. Bruce Rosthler, will my wrestling ability to Tim Magler.
1. Julie Phillips, being of sound mind but no body will to Jens Waherpani my fabulous measurement. After all 30" cocacoe isn't that bad. I also will to Mr. Hoodier my great sewing ability. Next time you can make your own curtains.
1. Ron Opedahl, being of sound mind and body do bequeath to Erik Var Stag my algebra ability and my own book, THIRTY WAYS TO SING. Now Erik, you will be able to sing and do your algebra at the same time.
1. Steve Olson, hereby will my collection of worn out T-shirts and flannel shirts to Chris Schounek. They are not any better than what you have now, but at least you'd have a variety! To Bruce Thatcher I will my drag racing ability. Good luck on your bicycle braces.
1. Bruce Nelson, will my super automobile to Bruce Foth. Now you'll have something that will go! And remember it floats! And you better learn how to drive, Bruce.
1. Mike Walligan, will to Tim Magler my football ability. With your mean-pun blocking ability you should be a great safety. I also will to Tobi Rivers D.S. the following: 500 gallons of paint, basketball coaches, teachers, and most important a fairy-god mother. Cause you need a lot of help!
1. Betty Mimsen, will the following to Tami Wooby to help make her high school life as "exciting" as mine was, my softball uniform, or should I say half a uniform, my ability to get yelled at in first hour study hall, my great P.E. basketball ability, and last but not least my farm. If your high school life is as "exciting" as mine was, you have my sympathy.
1. Jackie Magler, will my ability to play ping-pong in P.E. to Chris Dahl. You will need it next year and I hope that you win more games than we did this year.
1. Jeff Loken, will my membership in the R, R, L, R, to Bruce Halrud, alias Sponge, with the confidence that he will uphold the tradition of the club.
1. Rick Lines, will a year's supply of test tubes, watch glasses, glass tubing, and various chemicals to Mrs. Olson for the materials that were wasted on purpose and the experiments that accidentally went up in smoke.
1. Byron Kineth, being of gentle mind and peaceful body will to Greg Lempeke my outstanding sportsmanship and ability to score bonuses with the referees in basketball as he can get the T's instead of me. And to my pink brother one year's paid tuition to International School of Officiating for Uneducated Referees.
1. Deb Jones, being of forgetful mind will my ability to evade editorial assignments for the newspaper to Keanu Kineth. May you be as successful as I was.
1. Corvus Johnson, being of less mind than body, do hereby will my boyfriend to Tami Wooby, and my belly-dancing outfit to Mr. Mayskaze. (Who knows, someday he might be on the entertainment list.)
1. Diana Johnson, will to Lori Thal my short hair so maybe one day she won't have to flip her hair around to draw attention to herself and my ability to type to Mr. DeHamm, now you too can type a perfect paper. Ha!
1. Carrie Jacobson, being of large body and small mind will to Lori Helvick my ability to keep one hair color for at least more than a day. I'd rather be called forty than Carot Head. Frost doesn't come in so many shades.
1. Linda Kay Wood, being of hyper mind and spastic body will my spontaneous hip action to Karen Miveen. Knock 'em dead in the hallways, Karen! I also will to next year's Chemistry class, Conkie's and my ability to handle every experiment results. And finally, I will my dirty bent-up tennis shoes to any freshman who wants to leap and bound through the halls of otherwise people on people. May my hyperness be spread into thee!
1. Sam Hanson, being of sound mind and corrupted body will to Lori Thal my ability to walk through a doorway without skidding my nose at the top and bruising my hip at the sides.
1. Conkie Green, possessing little common sense and few tactful words will to Daryl Olson my profound personality trait of getting the hysterical giggles. It's an hilarious past time! I also will to Mr. Enger my ability to walk gracefully down the stairs even if minor obstacles (such as papers) get under foot. Sorry about that!
1. Ivan Frederiksen, being of sound body and mind, will to Dana Coleman my ability to drive in the city of Oak Moines without having an accident. Practice Dana, some day you will learn.
1. Ray Foth, being the last member of the "Pigeon Gang" of 1971, to leave this school will my ability to catch pigeons to my seven underclassmen. If you can't catch pigeons try a turkey.
1. Dan Evensen, being of evil mind and cruelly punished body, do bequeath to Alvin Ferte my honorary membership in the pigeon gang, and to the T. R. girls my ability to lose weight. Have fun girls!
1. Tom Curry, will to Greg Lempeke, all of my money in my savings account and my shiny new right front fender so someday he will have his own drive-in liquor store instead of trying to make his own.
1. Jeri Collins, being of superior mind and inferior body do hereby bequeath a low-boy to Bruce Foth so he can move that old car at the 4-corner. And to Lori Thal I will my ability to walk without making my hips look like a hunk wheel!
1. Kerry Coleman, being of sound mind and body will my 83 "Cubs" to Dana Coleman for the demolition derby in Algona.
1. Chris Coleman, being of big body and sometimes sound mind will to the next Senior Speech Class the ability to give impromptus. Also I will to Jennifer Wood my ability to stay awake during Government class. If you're anything like your sister you'll need all the help you can get.
1. Ron Christensen, will to my next year senior the ability to stay on the best side of Mrs. Enfield. If she has one!!
1. Josh Camerino, will my tote bag full of cream of grade, salt pills, nitroam and elastic wraps, to Bruce Foth so that it will keep him company on the sidelines and in the whirl-pool next year.
1. James "Bumans" Brock, being of long and yellow body and mushy mind will my blue bike, "Heaven's bomb", to Kim Christensen. She may be old and rusty but I guarantee if you leave home at 8:20 she'll work!! To Deb Carben and Ruth Mossan I will my shiny silver Date. Maybe you'll be able to take out the second my next year. Last but not least I will a Scooper-Doooper Slot of Security Band-Aids to Gina Collins for those sciopy, sexy, swimming suits for the fields.
1. Denise J. Schounek, being of all that it takes to complete four years at Tobi Rivers High will my beloved team captions to Steve Jones, so he will have something else to occupy his time with other than the innocent shoe player. (Take it from an week-end, Stephen, and love it like your own!!) I also will my five second attention-span to all prospective advanced math students. Now Mr. Linsberry's teaching will be a true challenge!
1. Wynnie Hanson, being of sound mind and questionable body will my trustworthy and dependable hand to Paul Seckin. Hey Paul, it helps if you have a good reason to have car trouble.

1974 Twin Rivers

1974 Class Prophecy - written by Jeff Loken

Well, it was getting to be the summer of 1984 and I was running out of places to go on vacation, so I decided to go back to Bode and the surrounding area for a visit.

Twin Rivers High School was the most natural place to visit first, so I went into the old building for a look at what was going on. I stopped in the office first as a matter of habit and who should I see as secretary but Linda Hood. I asked how TR was coming and she said we even have modular scheduling now.

I then went uptown to grab a bite to eat. On my way uptown my car was forced off the road by some guy in a hopped up semi. It only took me a second to realize that it was my old buddy, Dan Evenson, who, at the time, was delivering supplies to Foth's machine shop, at a moderate 110 miles per hour. I rode along with Dan to see how Randy was doing in the venture. Randy said business was pretty good and he almost made enough to make payments on his six cars, three motorcycles, two pickups, and a snowmobile. I went across the street to the cafe to eat when I saw a station wagon, packed with kids, pull up. It was Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kinseth and family. I asked Deb what their names were and she listed them as Jim, Frank, George, Bill, Clifford, Ezekial, Melvin, and Theodore.

After eating, I decided to wash my car and who should I bump into, literally, but Roger Nelson. We exchanged a few cross words but his Corvette wasn't a total loss and he resigned himself to ride his Sportster instead. My only loss, my dog Tobi, flew off the car while posing as a hood ornament. This left me in need of a pet. I searched awhile and found a likely looking place. The sign said, "Sue and Sandy's Siamese Cat House," Sue Hanson and Sandy Rolland, proprietors. I ordered two Persians to go, got a funny look and left. I pulled my moderatley damaged vehicle into the garage and who should I see but ace mechanic Ron Christiansen. He said a complete overhaul and new paint job would take about ten minuets so I sat down to wait. A train went by and from one of the boxcars leaped Mike Mulligan, carrying a half dozen railroad ties. It seems Mike has gone quite far in his weight training program. Mike said that our old classmate Rick Lines had left some of his handiwork in town. I looked across the street to see a well designed house. The only thing unusual was that the house was upside down. It seem Rick forgot to write "up" on the blueprint when he gave it to contractor Josh Cameron. Another unusual thing was the texture of main street. I guess Ivan Fredricksen and Kevin Thilges had been farming in the area and Kevin took a wrong turn during a dust storm and plowed up main street.

My car was repaired and I asked Ron if he knew a good place to eat. He mentioned a church picnic and off I went. I grabbed a plate and stepped in line and confronted Jackie Mogler and Connie Gress serving the food. I stopped to chat but Jackie ordered me to keep moving and I didn't dare disobey. At the end of the line I saw Bruce Roethler discussing racing techniques with "Muff" Mogler.

Class Prophecy

After a second helping of potato salad I went off to find what that unusually tall building up the street was used for. I entered this oddity to find as it's owner Yvonne Banwart, and her secretary, Deb Jones. I invited Yvonne to cocktails and dinner but she said her husband would disapprove. I insisted, so Yvonne responded by calling the cop. I called the smartest lawyer I knew, Jeri Collins, to act as my defense. I knew this was going to be a tough rap, however, as the prosecutor was none other than Ron Oppedahl. The judge mumbled something about a body burned in an airplane so I figured it was time to go.

I stopped in a bar in Livermore where I was served by cocktail waitress and part time go-go dancer Linda Wood. Linda said there was trouble brewing as Kerry (Karate) Coleman was preparing for fierce combat against Steve (alias Mac the Mackerel) Olson. The fight grew worse. Kerry was bleeding badly about the head so I instructed Holly Thompson, RN, to tighten the tourniquet around Kerry's neck. Then the police were called in. The cop looked friendly and I realized that it was Tom Curry. Since Tom's been on the Police force the amount of crimes committed in Arnold has decreased 50 per cent.

There was an opera going on next door so I went out to hear the world renowned Cherie Thatcher and Ann Selvig perform. Cherie hit a high C and shattered my contact lenses which forced me to leave. On my way to the car I stopped and chatted with Betsy Monson, bank clerk extraordinaire. It still amazes me that she can afford mink coats and a 100,000 dollar house on what the bank pays her, or rather, what it thinks it pays her. I walked into the street and got a chance to see the back end of the red Volkswagon that just ran over me. It was piloted by Julie Pflibsen with her mechanic and co-pilot Dorussen Johnson.

The ambulance ride was very interesting. One of the sights was some watermelon growing on trees. The driver stated something about those being apples but I saw Chris Coleman out in the grove and that explained everything. Another aspect that made the ride more interesting was I had a sexy nurse, Diana Johnson, to take care of me on the way. It seems that Diana is the top ambulance nurse around because she's the only one who can walk upright in an ambulance.

After getting out of the hospital, I immediately went to the most important place in town, the bakery. There I met Denise Behounek making delicious hot carmel rolls. Denise must have taken that Betty Crocker Award seriously. I left the bakery and ran into Vick Terwilliger. I asked her how things were going. She said, "Heavy, man, heavy." I suggested going to the tavern for a beer and she accepted. We went into a place called "Jim and Paula's" and had Paula Schuneman bring us our beer.

My vacation was almost over so I booked a flight on the nearest plane out of town. I found the stewardesses to be Janna Brock and Carrie Jacobson. With these two to make my trip comfortable, I was on my way home.

1973 Softball

The 1973 softball season was a beginning and an ending. It was the end for a fine group of seniors, who have contributed much to the past success of T. R. in softball. These girls spent many hours in practice learning the game and enjoyed putting their efforts to use.

The season, also marked the beginning of a new era of softball for T. R. There are many fine young girls who, with practice, will someday enjoy the success that past teams have had.

Coaches' Corner

1973 Football

Injuries, eligibility, and inexperience played a major roll in our 1 - 8 record for 1973. Greg Eisenbarth who was counted on to be one of our better linemen this year suffered a broken leg in our first game against Humboldt on September 7. His loss in an already thin, inexperienced line contributed to a very porous defense. Basically our team was very young with at least five sophomores starting most of the games both ways. Because of injuries and ineligilbe players, we were never able to have our best 11 players on the field at the same time. We are hoping for a better season next year, since we will have 9 returning offensive starters and 9 returning defensive starters. These boys will be facing a challenging season next year as many people are expecting us to have a good team and some of the other teams in the conference will also be improved.

Coach Roger Lousbery

1973 Junior Varsity Football

What can be said about a 0 - 6 season other than we couldn't put it together. The purpose of Junior Varsity in any sport is to give those underclassmen that normally do not get to play, the opportunity to play; thus, getting valuable game experience. Hopefully the J. V. experience will prepare them for Varsity competition where winning is of great importance. Perhaps we will look back in two or three years and think of when we used to lose.

Homecoming week (Sept. 24 - 28) started out wicked with everyone wearing black. Float construction also began Monday after school from 3:30 to 5:15 and in the evening 7:00 to 9:00. Construction continued during these hours throughout the week with the exception of Wednesday and Thursday evening. Wednesday was church night, therefore no one was to be at the float sites and Thursday night float construction started after the pep rally until the float was finished. Tuesday the T. R. students went back to the hills for "Hillbilly Day." Wednesday was "Do Your Own Thing Day." Thursday was "Greaser Day". Everyone was to look like someone from the 1950's. Also this day the students voted for King and Queen candidates. Thursday night was the Homecoming Pep Rally. The cheerleaders gave a pom-pom routine to "Hey Big Brother" and did cheers. Then the classes gave skits. The Seniors took first place with a skit about the Happy Rolfe Home featuring "genlune" (?) Rolfe cheerleaders, basketball, and football players. There was a second place tie between the Juniors with their skit about a Mad - Cap operation on a Rolfe football player and the sophomores with their skit patterned after the "Newly Wed Game." Students played opposite sexes and Deb Carlson was the host. Honorable mention went to the Freshman with their skit patterned after "Let's Make a Deal." Jeff Pentico was the host. After the skits the Homecoming Royalty was announced. Sandy Rolland and Byron Kinseth were named Queen and King. First runner-ups were Ann Selvig and Tom Curry. Second runner-ups were Sue Hanson and Josh Cameron. A bon-fire, put on by the Freshman climaxed the evening. Friday night during the half time of the game the floats were brought onto the field and the placings were announced. First place went to the Juniors with the theme "Hog the Pig-skin." Second place went to the Seniors with the theme "We'll chew Rolfe - That's No Lion." There was a third place tie between the Sophomore's float, "BeHeading for a Victory", and the Freshman's float, "Pirates Creme of Ram Soup - Can the Rams." The Homecoming week was climaxed with a dance with music supplied by a record player. Even though Rolfe narrowly escaped a defeat Homecoming week turned out a blast.

Coach's Corner

1975-76 Boys' Basketball Team

This year's boys' basketball team played every exciting game in season in an 8-11 record. In the conference they came in 23rd but the record might have been a 6-5 record. Every game, whether win or loss, was a close, hard-fought battle, and the players really loved every minute of the season. In a month I was especially pleased with their attitude of never giving up when they were behind. Also, I was pleased with their ability to take their time to work, but still make their determination to win the next time out.

Chris, Daryl, and Greg were exceptional in helping scoring with the number of oranges. Greg also led scoring points per game. Greg Lempke had the team in scoring with 227 total points, while Tom Curry and Byron Elsworth also were named with 200 and 201 respectively. Tom was the team leader in assists, and Greg was the team leader in rebounds. For help officials, Tom, Daryl, and Greg received All-Conference Honorable Mention.

This year's team was rather unusual in that it was a mixture of young and old players with the senior and three sophomores starting each game. Mark Kinseth and Terry Johnson played most of the regular season in the 1975-76 season. The team was led by seniors Tom Curry and Byron Elsworth. Good team strategy was provided by a real hard working group of guys headed by Dave Kiley and Josh Cameron, Mike Mulligan, Virg Hacker, Daryl Olson, and Mark Lines who made the game exciting, and made their team to the state through their ability to practice. In a long hard year we really made it out of the box to work with.

With these seniors and top other talents re-building, preparing for next year's season is promising for the boys' basketball on their way to a big year. Of course, it will still depend on what kind of attitude and skills the incoming players bring back with us hereafter. I have confidence that'll meet the challenge, and have a fine show next year.

1973-74 J.V. Basketball Season

Although our season proved to be something less than exciting, the confidence and experience gained should pay off in the future. Hopefully the sophomores that played this year on the J.V. will help power T.R. up in the conference standing next year.

As for the freshmen that played this year enough cannot be said about them. They stuck it out for the entire year often times only getting in at the very end of a game, but all the Fridays after school and Saturday afternoons and minute drills will pay off for them soon.

The team was young this year, consisting of ten underclassmen who did an excellent job.

It's a rebuilding year, but I feel we would have a real team falling the first season if we. The start of the season was slow because of the weather, and only a 1-1 record after two weeks. After the two day break the guys came back in shape, making a record of 1-1 in the first two weeks. They finished the first season with a 2-2 record. These were three seniors on the team this year, all team captains. They were Jeff Loken, Dan Evenson, and Steve Olson. Steve Olson finished his season with a 1-1 record at 115 lbs. He also helped with the state Wrestling Tournament in Clatsop.

In looking ahead to next year, I feel TR should have a good chance at the state this year. The 1975 season, who have been lettered in 1975 are George Kellner, Dan Evenson, Steve Olson, and Bruce Foth who had a 20-3 over all record. Along with these guys will be some sophomores of such caliber, and juniors who will do a great job this year. They are Mike Hanson, Dan Christensen, Jeff Fennell, and Mike Olson. Mike Olson was mentioned above. Two other members of the team I feel will contribute to the team next year are eightman Tom Barton and Steve Foth. Head Wrestling Coach Pat Janssen.

1973-74 J.V. Wrestling Season

Junior varsity wrestling provides each of the wrestlers not on the varsity a chance to participate. If at all possible, the wrestler will wrestle at each dual meet. Our roster keeps changing as different wrestlers are moved up to the varsity. I felt, this year, that each J.V. wrestler performed to the best of his ability. Of course, we would like to see more rapid improvement in everyone and are expecting great things of these boys next year.

COACH'S COMMENT

This was a track season that was enjoyed by the girls and the coach. The squad members brought home quite a few medals and ribbons.

Through a lot of hard work, our field event people began to place quite consistently. Jeane Balken consistently was 1st or 2nd in the softball throw and established a new school record of 217 feet. Sharon Jaeger placed 1st in the softball throw, discus and shotput at different times. Jennifer Wood earned a 1st in the discus at the Conference Meet and placed 1st in a few other meets.

Dorreen Johnson established a record in the mile run of 6:51 and Karen Kineth set a record in the 550 of 2:39.2. Julie Pflibsen, Cindy Struthers, Deb Collins, and Karen Kineth set a new record in the Distance Medley Relay with a time of 4:44.2 at the Albert City Invitational. The previous record was established in 1968.

Team of Nancy Telford, Jeane Balken, Brenda Matheson, Tom Flight Shuttle Hurdle Relay Team-- Jane Hoversten, Suzie Ludwig, Cindy Struthers, and Joan Hoversten placed in several meets. These girls were all freshmen.

Jeane Balken, Diane Telford, Brenda Matheson, and Deb Collins teamed up in the 550 Medley and brought home 1st place in our Conference Meet with a time of 2:01.5. Deb Collins also earned a 1st place medal in the open 440 of the Conference Meet.

Jeane Balken, Joan Hoversten, Julie Pflibsen, and Cindy Struthers ran the 440 Relay in 56.4 in Larson to barely miss placing. Julie Pflibsen, Diane Telford, Nancy Telford, and Brenda Matheson teamed up in the 550 Relay at Rollie and ran it in 1:55.2 for 4th place. At Rollie also, Karla Muyskens, Karen Kineth, Sharon Jaeger and Brenda Matheson established our best time in the mile relay this year and a 4th place finish. Jennifer Watnein ran the 100 yard dash for us this season. Julie Pflibsen and Ann Berte greatly ran the open 220, Deb Collins and Karla Muyskens the open 440, Karen Kineth, Dorreen Johnson, and Karla Muyskens were our long distance runners.

We were a young squad and should improve more next year and with the present eighth graders coming up next year should even be a better year.

For the squad, I would like to say thank you to our managers, Denise Behounek and Lauri Olson, for all the work that is involved in being a track manager.

--Coach Muyskens

Boys Have Successful Track Season

COACH'S COMMENT

This season was a big success. We defeated 60 schools and lost to 28. It was the winningest track season the boys have had in about 4 seasons. Greg Lempke and Terry Johnson both qualified for the State Meet in Des Moines. Our Seniors, Tom Curry, Josh Cameron, and Rick Lines gave us leadership. The rest of our team was sophomores and freshmen so we are really looking forward to next year, it should be a great one.

Seniors Spend April 26-29

On Friday April 26, 31 very anxious seniors and three sponsors collected at the Bode school to leave on their senior trip. Departure time was 8:00 a.m.

For the remainder of Friday we were stilling a bus. After arriving in Kansas City, Missouri, our hotel was found and everyone piled out in search of their home for the next four days. That night we attended the baseball game between the Kansas City Royals and Boston Red Sox. The Royals came out on top 4-2.

Saturday we awoke ready to go on our tour of the Art Institute and Liberty Memorial. After visiting these places we were turned loose at Crown Center Shopping Center, only to find all we could afford was to look. Sunday night we all dressed up to attend Off Broadway Dinner Theatre. There we ate a scrumptious dinner and saw a production of "Camelot". This was an evening enjoyed by all.

Sunday morning was left open to do anything you wanted. Most of us chose to sleep. The afternoon was spent having fun at the "Worlds of Fun Amusement Park". Sunday night we returned to our hotel to have a surprise birthday party for Linda Hood.

Monday morning was the morning to see the zoo but due to the rain we were unable to attend. We collected all of our belongings and headed for home.

We arrived in Bode at about 6:00 p.m. not quite as bright-eyed and amiable as we left on Friday.

Pep, Jazz Bands Work Hard

The Jazz Band worked hard and performed well.

Looking back over the year I am pleased with the progress the bands have made. From the "4" in Marching Band Contests to the Large Group Contests in the spring, everyone learned not only how to play more like musicians, but also to act more like musicians. With the addition of the Jazz Band the level of playing is climbing rapidly, and expanding into different styles constantly. This is not yet the end; it's a beginning, but a good solid beginning.

the Future

The 1974 girls' junior high track team had quite a successful season. After the girls got over "first meet" jitters, they pulled out a second place at the Albert City meet above three other teams.

The girls then really started to show their talents at the Manson triangular the following week. The team racked up a total of 93 1/2 points over 45 1/2 for Rockwell City and 40 for Manson. The highlight of the meet was the shuttle relay event where Lori Lempke, Linda Malkmus, Loretta Christopher and Deb Hansell shattered the school record by over 6 seconds. At the second triangular meet in Rockwell City the team took home another first place with 81 points. In the 3 flight shuttle hurdles Mary Waleganz, Wendy Foth, Loretta Christopher, and Lori Lempke tied the school record. Then the 440 relay team of Brenda Christopher, Annette Maassen, Deb Hansell, and Wendy Foth broke the old 1967 record in this event.

Because the quadrangular meet at Manson was cancelled due to rain, the girls' season was cut short and they had a short two weeks' to get ready for the conference meet at Manson on May 13th. On a cold, windy and cloudy day on the 13th, the girls really tried hard, but couldn't beat a very tough Pocatello team. They placed in every event but two, and placed second for the overall meet. It was a fine placing for the end of the season finale, however.

Two other records were broken during the season. The 880 medley team of Annette Maassen, Kathleen Jaeger, Joan Thul, and Jeannine Beboutek broke the record and the mile relay team consisting of Diane Berte, Linda Malkmus, Candy Helland, and Terri Carlson also set a new time.

The season was a lot of fun and hard work and we have high hopes for next year.

--Coach Laughlin

Jr. High Boys' Track Team Members, Left To Right, Row 1 - Richard Willey. Row 2 - Paul McKibban, Craig Lane, Tim Bennett, Dan Olson, Ray Struthers, Jeff Rutz, Dave Higgins, Kent Muyskens, and Jim Bonde. Row 3 - Mike Jacobson, Paul Jacobson, Blake Banwart, Denny Lamb, Raymond Christenson, Kevin Monson, Tom Olson, Frank Hacker, Jeff Struthers, Jeff Berte, Brad Banwart, and David Christianson. Row 3 - Coach Ken Hoodjer.

Two of the highlights of the 1974 season were provided by the state association. The discus throw and the open 660 yd. run were added to the agenda at Junior High track meets. T. R. responded in the person of Tom Olson who holds both new school records. A good total of 96 ft. 4 in. at Rockwell City in the third meet of the season should hold as a record. Tom came through with 36th place in the conference meet with a record time of 1 min. 30.6 sec.

Frank Hacker set a record that may stand beyond his graduation in 1976. It is an outstanding mark of 47 ft. 6 in. that was good for first place at the conference meet.

A shuttle hurdle relay team of Mike Jacobson, Paul Jacobson, Jeff Berte, and Kent Muyskens has been working hard to improve upon the record set in 1973. They were successful at conference with a time of 40.7 sec. Much of the credit goes to Mr. Nelson who has spent some hours with them.

Denny Lamb has been a consistent team member. Good high jump attempts have been normal for him. Especially outstanding, though, were the second place finish in the conference 440 and good contribution to relay teams.

Brad Banwart is a highlight in himself though he has not had a first place finish in any events, his determination and general good attitude have been an asset to the team.

I've mentioned only eight graders. Expected to return to form a nucleus for the team of 1975 are: Tim Bennett, Craig Lane, Jim Bonde, Dave Higgins, Jeff Rutz, and Paul McKibban.
